A RESERVOIR MUDDLE.

The committee that was appointed to superintend the construction of the district No. 2 reservoir have met a serious obstruction at the very outset, and they have been compelled to stop long enough to remove or surmount it. They have been compelled to stop long enough to remove or surmount it. They have discovered that what was predicted by advocates of the reservoir about the rapid advances in the prices of property on the "new survey" if the improvement was made, has verily come to pass, it isn't the property that will be benefitted by the reservoir that has gone up in price, however; land values in that section of the city are about normal, but up at the reservoirs its is the favored spot. The members of the committee were shartled when they undertook to purchase the reservoir and they found that ed when they undertook to pur-the reservoir, and they found that a unreaduptive and almost worth-ide hills, for which $25 an acre be an exorbitant price, had sud-quadrupled in value and that the demanded $100 an acre for it, with nother concessions that would be vaninge to himself. They declined such a sum, and there the matter for the present.

Mr. Swan, chairman of the committee, we that one acre of the land in question in the bottom of the bollow might worth $100, but that would be stretched its value to the very limit. The other ree acres or so are in his judgment at worth over $5 an acre. He has offered to compromise with the gener, John lison, $5 $75 an acre, and when that its refused be stopped negotiations and san reading law on the question.

Stillson, at $75 an acre, and where the stopped negotiations and began reading law on the question. It is not improbable that condemnation proceedings will be resorted to by the city to acquire a title to the land. A special meeting of the city council has been called for next Tuesday afternoon, and the matter will be considered. It is hoped that an amicable settlement of the matter will be considered. It is hoped that an amicable settlement of the matter can be made and that no suit at law may be necessary.

W. H. Bone and E. A. Williams also own land that will be needed for the reservoir, and they are said to have represervoir, and they are said to have represervoir and the said that take this afternoon.

LET IT COME. LET IT COME.

It is to be hoped that the Hot Springs road will extend its line to Ogden this spring. The glad news that such an improvement was in contemplation had scarcely been wafted to our ears before the formible denial of Manager Bamberger was published, and the way matters stand now it seems that everything is uncertain. Kaysville's traveling public would welcome the new road if for no other reason than from the fact that better rates would follow. Already we are indebted to the Hot Springs road for a reduction in the fare to Salt Lake, and another cut would probably result from the metropous en wille where his distinguished will be required. The submitted will be required to the Hot Springs that such an improvement will be where his distinguished will be required. The bright correspondent of the Coalville Times, writing from Yeos says: "I understand that the work of crecting the telephone poles will commence either at Coalville or Kamas, and that as soon as one town will begin where they left off, which will leave no gaps. Each town will lay off their own allotment and see that the poises are set at the proper distance along the county road. The work should not be delayed until plowing time but should be attended to at once, and arrangements made as to which end of the line will commence the work. I would suggest that Coalville be the starting point and that the Ther towns along the line take up the work in rotation."

The water in Silver creek is getting quite high.

Everybody in Gunnison is interested in an extensive canal which is being built, called the Gunnison City and Antelope valley Canal company. Some time ago a new townsite was located, just north of the present town, and this canal will supply water for this, the present town, and Antelope Valley. A meeting was held last week to elect a committee to see about engaging a surveyor and having the town and graveyard platted, the latabout engaging a surveyor and having the town and graveyard platted, the latter a long-felt want.
